

St. Matthew's Legacy Recipe Collection

Companion Booklet

Food at St. Matthew's...

Undoubtedly one of our best features!

This companion booklet has been compiled to illustrate our 2017 book:

St. Matthew's Legacy Recipe Collection

Each set of photographs includes page numbers, in reference to corresponding recipes or stories in the Legacy Recipe Collection book.

The majority of the photographs, and all the stories in this publication have been previously published either in the St. Matthew's newsletter -The Journey- or on our website: <http://www.saintmatthewswindsor.ca>, hence becoming part of the St. Matthew's Archives.

All photos portraying children have been previously approved for publication by their guardians.

Meal Following the Service of Induction for the Rev'd Andreas Thiel,
November 3, 2013

Stone Feast

By Jane Patterson (Inspired by the sermon during the Service of Induction, and a glowing feeling from being part of this great event)

- 1 We need a feast, we strongly feel
To welcome in Andreas Thiel.
The wardens said "we should celebrate",
But what could we cheaply put on a plate?
- 2 They sent for Paul the conjurer
With a magic stone he'd make dinner appear.
The wardens gave him a couple of stones
(a pittance really – we make no bones).
- 3 He traded the stones for a couple of hams
And then the magic really began.
Pauline said – "look what I have found!
I'll throw in a dish of cheese and hash browns"

p. 48

- 4 But it would be a real feat
To put out more than spuds and meat.
So some said – I have got some greens,
Lettuce, carrots, beets, and beans.
- 5 And so from out of God's great garden
There sprang an amazing salad bar. Then
What could come but a sweet treat
For Shirley brought some cake to eat.
- 6 And flowers sprang from out of the earth
And the dinner was full of hugs and mirth.
To celebrate our God above
We made a feast of stones and love.
